We are a justice-seeking people, and we are singing, singing for our lives.

We are a gentle, angry people, and we are singing, singing for our lives.

We are young and old together, and we are singing, singing for our lives.

We are a gentle, angry people, and we are singing, singing for our lives.

We are a land of many colors, and we are singing, singing for our lives.

We are a gentle, angry people, and we are singing, singing for our lives.

We are gay and straight together, and we are singing, singing for our lives.

We are a gentle, angry people, and we are singing, singing for our lives.

We are a gentle, loving people, and we are singing, singing for our lives.

We are a gentle, angry people, and we are singing, singing for our lives.

Hymn #146: “Soon the Day Will Arrive” Words: Ehud Manor, Music: Nurit Hirsch

Soon the day will arrive when we will be together, and no longer will we live in fear.

And the children will smile without wondering whether on that day thunderclouds will appear.

Wait and see, wait and see what a world there can be if we share, if we care, you and me.

Wait and see, wait and see what a world there can be if we share, if we care, you and me.

Some have dreamed, some have died to make a bright tomorrow, and our vision remains in our hearts.

Now the torch must be passed with new hope, not in sorrow, and a promise to make a new start.

Wait and see, wait and see what a world there can be if we share, if we care, you and me.

Wait and see, wait and see what a world there can be if we share, if we care, you and me.
